WE DEDICATE

It is with great pleasure and sincere pride that we, the Class of 1953, dedicate this GUIDE to one who is highly respected and admired by the students of our school for her outstanding leadership in extra-curricular activities as well as in the class room; to one who has spent many extra hours helping to make our stay in Ashland High School one of the most memorable experiences of our lives.

Her unselfish efforts have been a constant inspiration to those who have worked with her.

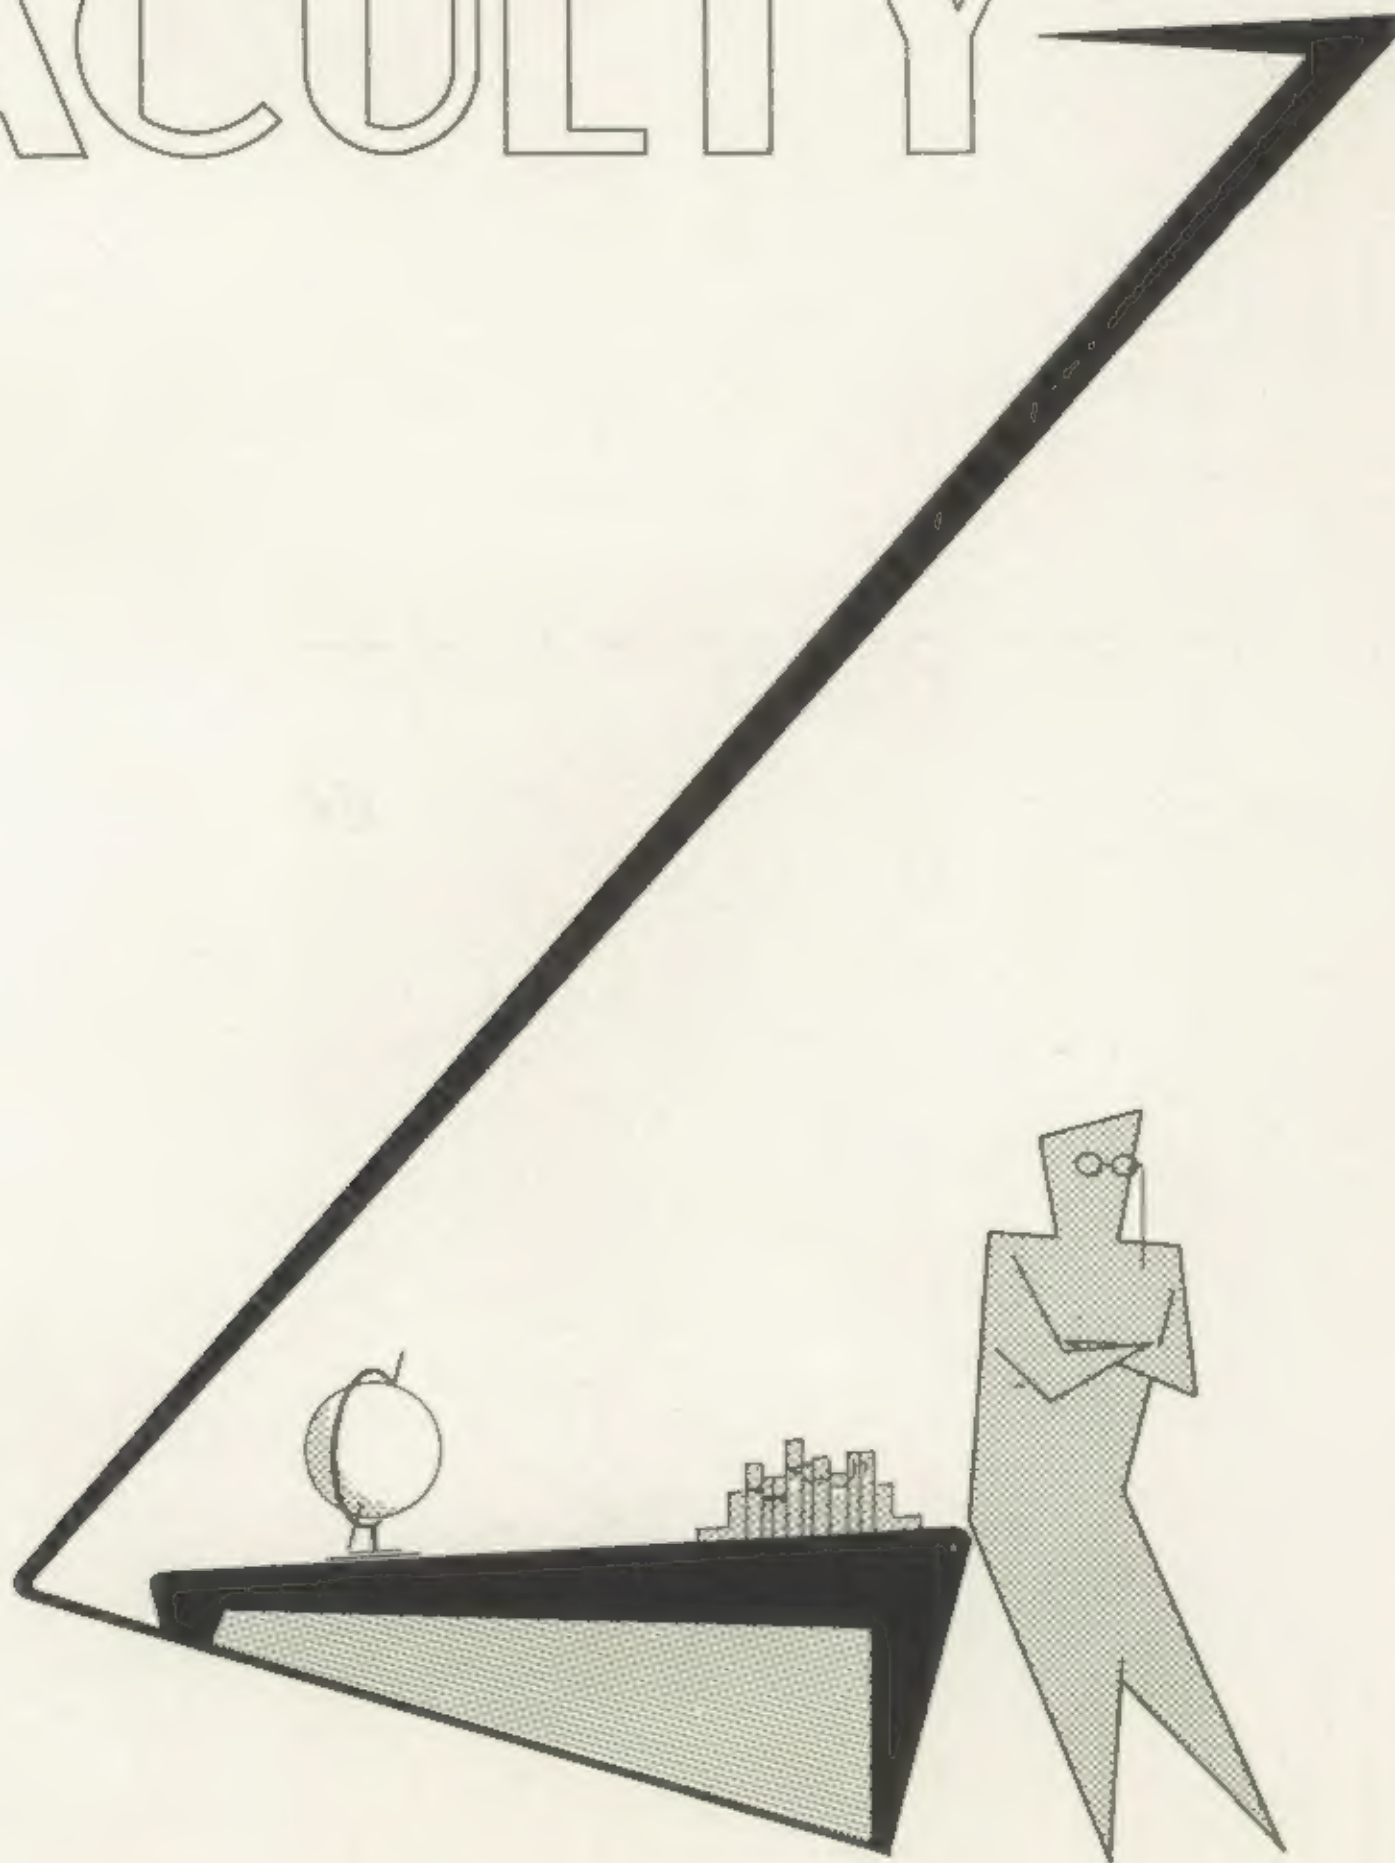

She has a tremendous amount of school spirit and has always been a strong supporter of school traditions.

We therefore dedicate this 1953 GUIDE to

with the hope that her future may be filled with all the happiness and success she has so well earned by her countless efforts in behalf of our school.

SENIORS

The program of the year—knowing, courage, and thought—was the motto of the Class of 1953.

The nucleus of the year is the council, which by its job was to lead the members of the class. The council members, too, were to be leaders. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

Each term brought to the members of the class a new challenge. The members of the class were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

The year was a year of growth and change. The members of the class were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

The year was a year of growth and change. The members of the class were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

The year was a year of growth and change. The members of the class were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

The year was a year of growth and change. The members of the class were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year. They were to be the ones who would lead the class in the year.

Prophecy - Class of 1953

SETTING: Ashland: Corner of Main and Center Street

TIME: 1978

SCENE: A street cleaner sweeping street while millionaire waits to cross at stop light

CHARACTERS: A millionaire—Dave Hamilton
A street cleaner—Fred Snow

DAVE: Pardon me, sir, but haven't I seen you
Your face looks familiar

FRED: Not that I know of, mister

DAVE: I'm sure I have, but I may be mistaken. (Walks on, comes back.) I'm sure now that I have. Didn't you go to Ashland High School?

FRED: Why, yes, I did. I graduated in the Class of '53. Boy, what a rip-roarin' class we had

DAVE: Fred! Fred Snow—my old buddy. It's Dave. Dave Hamilton, you know, HEAD

FRED: You sure are looking prosperous

DAVE: You don't look so bad yourself. At least, I see you are your own boss

FRED: Yeah, it's pretty nice, all the cigarette butts you can get your hands on, now and then a few coins and your hours. But say, how did you ever get a fancy suit like that?

DAVE: Well, to make a short story shorter (Opens coat and reveals sign saying "Eat at Peppy's", you see. I traveled around the world. I was in the French Foreign Legion, worked in Bombay as a rickshaw driver, just odd jobs over. I got here just this week and the office offered me this job

FRED: Man, you have been around, haven't you?

DAVE: Yeah

FRED: All around?

DAVE: Yeah, all around

FRED: Remember Meininger? I saw him the other day.

DAVE: Good old Marv. How's he doing?

FRED: Not bad. He said that he and John Sprong and Jim Campbell are wallpaper designers in Greenwich Village. Can you imagine that? (Chuckles) By the way, Marv told me they were designing wallpaper for Shirley Hest

DAVE: Who's she and what's so funny about it?

FRED: Oh, she's the proprietor for Madam Figure's Girdle Shop

DAVE: Well, I can tell you of two members of our class who made good in a really big way—Jim Schuette and Ray McKean. They finally bought the 42 Club

FRED: Yeah, they should. They've been paying for the place ever since they were freshmen. But, they almost lost it

DAVE: How's that?

FRED: They bet it on Dabby Fridline riding her horse, Roxy, the Santa Anita Handicap

DAVE: I think I read about that in the Paradise Hill Quarterly. Say, is Kay Reynolds still the editor of that paper?

FRED: Yeah, she lost her job when the T. G. went bankrupt. So speaking of old classmates, you'll never guess whom I saw the other night at Rainbow Arena.

DAVE: It wouldn't be Jim Weiss and Joe Mason in one of their Shakespearean productions?

FRED: No, not they, although I hear they have been quite popular lately. No, it's more in the line of sports. I saw be Cowan win the Ladies Wrestling Championship of the world

A: ... she certainly made a name for herself. What's her name?

You mean Virginia? She's her manager. She always did like to handle money

A: It seems quite a few of our classmates made good in the ... Rose Smith is starring in a musical comedy now. Last time I heard, she had the lead in Gentlemen Prefer Blondes.

We, what do you know about that? And guess who I saw on T. V. yesterday?

A: W ...

Cupid Edwards. She is taking Hedda Hopper's place in Hollywood

A: I always knew that gift of gab would take her some place. Well, that makes two of our classmates who are on television. Dave Emery has a part on the Perry Como show. Some job

What is he, an announcer?

A: We suppose you could call him that. He doesn't have to say, for he's the guy who stands there and puffs on a cigarette and says they're much milder

Say, if you get time, go to Samaritan Avenue and watch Larry Jones. He is putting up a chicken coop

A: ... I've n ... I hope

No, Joyce wouldn't like that. Larry's working for the Loudonville Prefab Chicken Coop Corporation.

A: Remember all the guys that were joining the Reserves? We—they've made quite a career out of it. Jim Welsh, I know. Vice Admiral of the Japanese Navy and Warren ... Dave Houser and Phil Ohi are making week end ... the moon. Seems as if there are some rather ...

A: ... I saw Jim Roland on leave the other ... He's a corporal in the Marines. He's got a job—taking care of the coal pile at Port Columbus. And have you heard about the new regatta in Paris? Homer Brown, Spikes Sponsler, and George Thompson ... opened up an English Grammar School. All the ... society people are flocking to it to learn English as she speaks

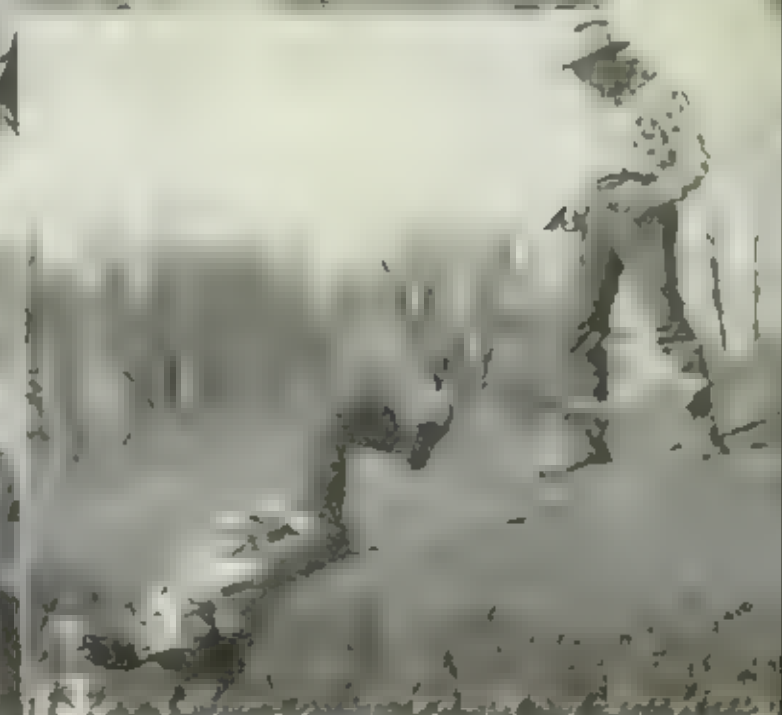

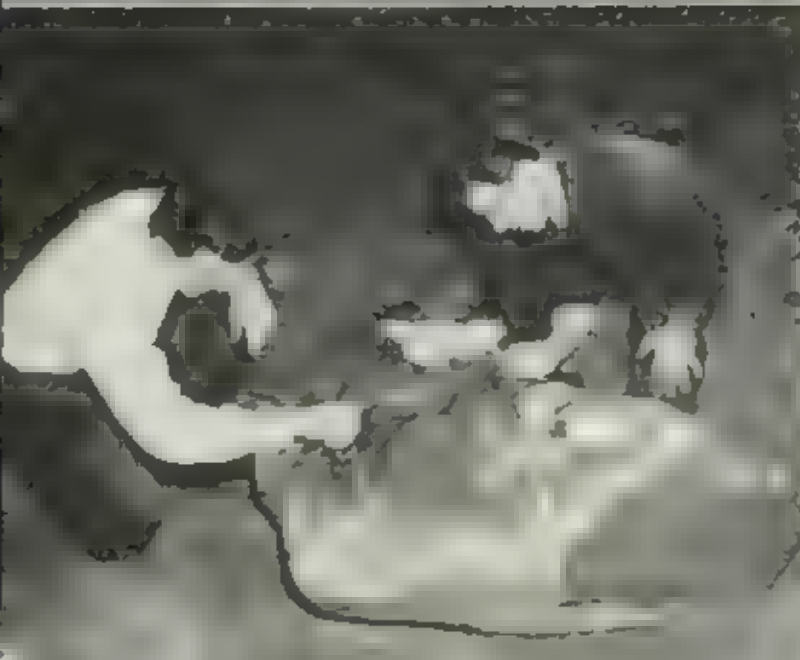

DAVE: ... if our friends got into politics. Stan Uncapher was just appointed Secretary of Agriculture by the new President. Say, what'd you think of a woman winning the election?

Fred: Well, Sonya Chambers was a good Student Senate President. She ought to do as well as Truman, Eisenhower and Jim Roseboro did

DAVE: Yes, I think as a whole our classmates have really made progress. But I should be getting back to Peppy's. I don't want to be late on my first day of work. Besides, I've got to stop in at Curt Thompson's Lonely Hearts Club and see if I've gotten any mail.

Fred: Well, I see you around, Dave. I'm staying at the 'Y' now. Come on up some day and we'll talk over old ...

DAVE: O. K. Fred, see you around the streets.

A thrilling mystery, Ten Little Indians, was presented on March 20 as the Senior Class Play.

The setting was a country house off the coast of England. The ten little Indians were represented by ten small statues on the mantle. Above them was a nursery rhyme explaining the way each Indian was killed. As the play progressed it was realized that ten of the guests in the house were represented by the ten statues.

Each of these people had at sometime during his life been responsible for the death of a friend or a relative. This was told by an unknown voice off stage which added to the suspense of the play.

All of the guests had been invited to the house by an unknown host and were complete strangers to each other. Eventually each of them was murdered by the means explained in the poem. The villain was not discovered until the last thrilling minutes of the play.

The cast of eight men and three women did an excellent in portraying the characters. The director, Mr. William Mast worked many hours after school and in the evenings with these people, helping them to perfect their parts and dramatize their lines.

The play, written by Agatha Christie, had recently been made into a movie under the name AND THEN THERE WERE NONE.

'She's fainted, that's all!'

2. 'One choked his little self
And then there were nine

3. 'One got in chancery,

4. 'Oh, what have I done?'

5. 'Thank heaven women can't shoot straight!'

Later in a Valentine Party was given for them. The girls now are planning that the girls may and exchange letters with them at Christmas time.

The program of the meeting for the year contained many interesting things. One of the first of the year was a Valentine Party when Mrs. Dwa. Morris, answered the questions of the girls concerning dating, parents, and marriage.

vide a better solution to their difficulties.

Not all activities of the club are serious. Its two outstanding social events of the year are the annual Parent and Son Banquet and the Father and Son potluck supper. At the banquet, Mr. John Hartz, president of the chapter, presided. The potluck supper was held at the home of Mr. W. C. Brown, president of the chapter. The chapter has also been successful in many other contests and has won many prizes.

At the Future Farmers of America combine to form the Future Farmers of America, a national organization which was held at Kansas City. Five members of the group represented the local chapter and attended the convention. Every year the chapter attends a conservation meeting at Muskingum, a camp owned by the Future Farmers of America.

Perhaps the most active organization in the high school is the Student Senate. This organization has many projects and events to the school. One of the projects is to go from each home room to represent a room in the Senate. This year it is made yearly at the time of election. At this time a special assembly is held by the Student Senate organized to introduce the candidates for all offices to the student body, before the final election.

One of the Senate's many worthwhile activities is the responsibility for a Greek orphan boy whom the Student Senate has adopted. The Senate with the help of other clubs in the school has been able to provide money and clothing for this child for over a year.

Acting as the sponsor of most of the school dances, the Student Council staged many square dances featuring Wayne Stone's Orchestra. The biggest one of this kind was the annual Sate Hawk Dance. The decorations carried out the usual theme with little Annie and Daisy Mae. Prizes were awarded to the most cleverly dressed couple and to the person wearing the most attractive vegetable corsage.

Dick Dee from WATG was master of ceremonies at the Night Hawk Dance. The music was in the form of records which were broadcast over the radio on a continuous basis.

At the same time. This dance was also presented by the Senate. At the Christmas Dance to which Ash and High School alumni were invited Larry Hiner's Band furnished the music. City Santa Nick distributed the prizes.

The Talent Assembly which is planned by this organization was complete this year with a band and chorus line to accompany the various acts. For the first time the assembly was presented in the form of a variety show at a night performance to which the public was invited.

The Senate was the host of one of the biggest parties of the year when it entertained the Cadets of Culver Military Academy after its basketball game with Ashland. This was given at Miller Memorial with each cadet bringing an Ashland girl as his date for the evening.

The Student Handbook was also a project of the council. It is published every two years and includes a term concerning the school and its activities. Students in the journalism department worked most of the summer on the book and it would be completed for this year.

The excellent results of the Senate's vandalism program are apparent in the fact that most of the damage to public and private property at Halloween has been eliminated.

At the end of the year a picnic was held for all of the new and old members of the Senate.

Koda Klub

The Koda Klub was first organized in 1935 by Mr. E. D. Wolfe, former mathematics teacher at Annapolis High School. At this time, the members made wagon rides for little children and engaged in other such charitable activities. Although the club no longer does this sort of thing, it still renders many services to the school, the community, and the world.

An example of the latter is their clothing drive for the Children's Crusade in Europe. The club sent clothing to New York City to be shipped to Korean and European children. It gave away to it the one hundred pounds sent two years previously.

As one of their contributions to the school activity, they helped to sponsor the annual Hi-Y-Koda Klub Formal. The boys helped with the decorations which carried out the theme "Space Adventure," and with the planning of the program for the evening. They also presented an old school square dance in April which featured Wayne Strine's Orchestra.

The club was also active socially, as it held a party at the Miller Memorial for its members and their dates. Potlucks and other meetings were held during the year so that the boys' little brothers were entertained. On another occasion the Junior and Senior Hi-Y, the Koda Klub, and all their little brothers held a joint meeting to see a full length movie in the auditorium.

The boys formed a basketball team and played among themselves and with the F. F. A.

They helped with the Halloween vandalism program by contacting their seventh grade "little brothers" and seeing that they kept their mischief to Halloween and Beggars' Night.

Mr. Blain is the adviser of the boys and has solved many of the problems of the club.

The organization sold refreshments at the Shelby football game at Myer Field to finance their various activities.

In all sports minded girls sent a cordial invitation to join the Senior Girls' Athletic Club. This organization made up of tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade girls who enjoy playing in various sports.

Some of these sports include soccer, bowling, volleyball, basketball, recreation, cards, and Omaha.

Soccer, being the first sport of the year, starts in September when the girls travel to Brookside Park on Mondays and Wednesdays after school to play this game.

Bowling starts soon after soccer season is over. The first bowling day is the time for these contests on Tue days and Thur days. During the same weeks that bowling is being played, volleyball tournaments are run in the gym. A varsity volleyball team was chosen this year to play other surrounding towns in the sport. The team lost only one game to Mansfield, won two from Loudonville and one from Nashville.

After Christmas vacation basketball season begins. With this sport goes the annual All-Star Game. The Army and Navy teams are chosen after try outs are held. Following this three weeks are spent in practice for the big game.

Around Easter time the girls go out with partners to play recreational sports including badminton, ping pong and table board. The girls are nominated by means of a tournament until the final champion in each sport are chosen. After recreational sports, basketball is the popular game until the end of the year.

The greatest ever member of Senior G. A. C. is a winner of all awards. This is due by participation in the above mentioned sports and receiving a many point for each activity. A total of six hundred is needed to receive a letter.

This year a new constitution was written for the club and was voted into effect by the members. It raised the standard in certain sports and stated more requirements for an A-girl to meet.

Once a month an evening meeting was held. This often consisted of a party or a potluck. One of the most interesting of these meetings was Stunt Night. The senior team won first prize of the evening for its interpretation of "Once Upon a Time".

Junior Girls'

The girls' basketball team played five games during the season. They won four and lost one. The team was coached by Mr. [Name].

Future Teachers

Students who are interested in teaching as a career join the Lettie J. Poe Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. In this way they can acquaint themselves with the profession.

Several members are chosen each year to usher at the annual N. E. O. T. A. Convention in Cleveland. They also conduct the parents to their appointed rooms at Night School.

Those interested in elementary teaching may observe at Pleasant Street and Osborn School, and some girls are permitted to conduct classes if the teachers are called to conference.

Speakers during the year included Mr. John Tilton and Mr. E. C. Campbell, high school teachers; Miss Alice McCracken, elementary school supervisor; and Miss Bertha Bateman from Atlanta College. One of the last meetings was with the Delta Kappa Gamma of the same school. The two groups heard a speaker from New York and a speaker from the local chapter and viewed the building and its many recreational facilities.

Various other activities take up their spare and quiet time while they are in the library. They see that everything is in place—that books are properly shelved, magazines and books get the new books ready for use, and take passes of students in the library to their assigned study hall.

The first meeting of the club was a success. The next evening meeting was the first of the year. The members of the club are all very active. Girl Reserve Ushers

If you are a member of the Senior Girl Reserve and are not in the band, orchestra, or choir, you have the qualifications for a Girl Reserve Usher. These girls are chosen for their honesty, sincerity, and manners.

The thirteen girls who were chosen for service this year could be seen showing people to their seats and handing out programs at all plays, twilight concerts, basketball games, Concert Lecture Series, and any other activities held in the McDowell Auditorium for which reserve tickets were sold.

They were trained by the ushers of the previous year. At this time they learned how to read tickets and find the seats quickly and correctly.

The head usher, Sue Tilton, who was also the president of the Senior Girl Reserve Club, was in charge of seeing that all of the girls were on duty at the proper place and time. Sue attended Girls' State in the summer of 1952. She brought back many interesting experiences from Capital University to report to various classes and clubs in the school.

The group of girls chose its own uniforms at the beginning of the year. The head usher was designated by her white tailored suit while the others were dressed in navy blue suits. For the basketball games the girls wore white long-sleeved blouses and blue skirts instead of their regular uniforms.

When problems arose, the matters were taken to Mr. McDowell, who was the adviser of the girls. He presented them with roses for the Thespian Play which was their last ushering duty.

At the end of the year, the girls turned their places over to the ushers of the following year. Their first experiences in ushering were at the Senior Banquet, Farewell Assembly, Basketball, and Commencement.

In a very short time, the girls made many new acquaintances with the patrons while they were rendering a great service to the school.

The 1953 Guide required a large amount of planning and labor. Applegath, editor, A. Dallas, art editor, and S. Kerr, the staff adviser, were the main forces behind the paper. The staff members who helped in the planning and editing were B. Ingmand, Barbara Ingmand, and Ann Fendrick.

The copy for the Guide was written by Sandra Zehner, staff editor. The photographer, J. Morrison, and Lee Mowry with advice from Mr. Morrison, made up the pictures seen in the book.

The theme of the year was planned by Ann Fendrick who used many original ideas in forming one of the most interesting sections of the year book. The girls and the sports editor, S. Kerr and Gordon Conrad, assisted in the planning and editing of the sports section.

Carl Hartman was in charge of the layout. The senior editor and planning of activities were organized by Barbara Ingmand and D. Sier. The tedious, exacting work of planning and pasting the individual pictures of students was done by Dave Emery.

The pictures of the organization of the school were arranged by D. Fridline and Guy Flora.

The cover of the 1953 Guide was an original design by G. Griner, art editor. He is also responsible for the magazine divider pages. Marvin Meininger, assistant art editor, executed the design for the sports page.

Miss Stanley, the staff adviser, did a splendid job of planning the year book.

Dick Wolfe

Dick Wolfe proved himself to be a very valuable member of the coaching staff when football season opened. Wolfe had to do plenty of extra work to get the team in shape by the first game, due to the illness of Head Coach C. E. Taylor.

During the winter Mr. Wolfe coached the junior varsity basketball team to a very successful season. He uncovered material that will aid the varsity next year.

This spring he started a new venture in the coaching business. He took over the tutorship of the jayvee baseball team and did a very good job.

Coach Miller again helped coach a winning jayvee football combination. This year's team had a five and two record as compared with last year's undefeated team's record of six wins and one tie.

During the winter months Coach Miller had charge of the freshman basketball team and did a good job in this sport although his team did not win any game. The experience was the main thing.

Harry Miller

Coach Valentine was the other coach who led the jayvee football team this year.

Mr. Valentine also had another good track team. Last year he coached a state champion in Phil Hamilton and is hoping to coach some more this year. The track team has picked up a lot of followers since Mr. Valentine has taken over the coaching.

The Arrows ended the season with a record of 10-0-0 and have the distinction of being the first team in the history of the school to win three consecutive seasons. The team's success was due to a combination of factors, including the coaching of Coach C. E. Taylor, the skill of the players, and the support of the fans. Facing the 1952-53 season, the team was determined to maintain its undefeated record. However, Coach Taylor was diagnosed with a serious case of trichinosis and was unable to coach the team in their annual spring practices.

Winning their first game of the season over Willard, the Arrows moved on to Madison, Tiffin, Ravenna, Shelby, Wooster, Marion, Canton, Lehman, and Galion in that order, for a perfect season.

Senior Lee Mowry and junior John Harpster led the team down the end positions and contributed to the team's attack with their gu-fingered pass blocking and their bone-crushing blocks. The team's success was due to the skill of the players, the coaching of Coach Taylor, and the support of the fans.

Dan McBride, a very promising junior, played very well at his offensive line post all season for the Arrows. The linebackers, consisting of Captain Jim Roseboro, Larry Jones, and John Spreng, deserve plenty of credit for their analysis of the opposition's plays.

The Arrows backfield consisted of four very fine ball carriers. Junior Dave Grindle did the ball-handling and running from his quarterback slot. Bill Springer, hampered by injuries in the early part of the season, did an outstanding job of running the ball. Turning on speed when needed was one of Springer's greatest weapons. John Spreng held down the other halfback post and carried the pigskin for considerable yardage.

Ending their season with five wins and just two losses, the jayvee football team served notice that there will be good Arrow teams in the future of Ashland High School football.

This team had plenty of desire to learn and will to win. They spent many hard practices learning the fundamentals before their first game with Upper Sandusky was to be played. Starting from scratch, they had to learn many important plays before they could play any games.

Although falling to a tough Upper Sandusky jayvee team, 13 to 0, the Darts made a very commendable showing in their first hand-to-hand battle. The Darts were unable to dent the goal line but they played very aggressive ball, and showed they had plenty of scrap and determination.

Overcoming the jitters that go with first appearances, the Darts defeated a strong Johnny Appleseed aggregation 14 to 6 in their second appearance of the season.

The Darts showed they had the mechanics as well as the eagerness to win in evening their record at one and one.

In their next outing the Darts tromped over Wooster, 20 to 6 for win number two. The defensive maneuvers of the jayvee team were very sharp in holding the opposition to just one touchdown and the offensive thrusts by the Darts were brilliant.

John Simpson Junior High from Mansfield very convincingly defeated the Darts 40 to 7, in their next quest for victory. The rugged Simpson team had plenty of offensive power in addition to a good defensive unit and thus snapped the Darts two game winning streak.

While holding the opponents scoreless, the Darts scored three touchdowns and an extra point to trounce a jayvee squad from Elyria High School, 20 to 0. This decisive win made their record stand at three wins and two losses.

Ending the 1952-53 season with a 6-5 record and the Marion sectional championship, the Arrows enjoyed another remarkable basketball season under the leadership of Coach Taylor. Coach Taylor had a coaching team which have compiled an amazing 23-20 record.

When opening season was a quiet affair, after a week of rest from the previous year, the team began to show signs of improvement. During the first few games, the team was up from the 1952-53 season, but it was not until the team had the team.

By the time the first game against Cleveland was being played, Taylor had a hard time getting the team to take the long and hard season. In Roseboro, Gene Side, Bill Cooper, and Max Messner, with junior Ken Side and Jim Dilgard, rounded out the team. The Arrows' first game against Cleveland was seen from Stan Rader, Bob Messner, Larry Brewer, and Max Messner.

One of the most outstanding features of the Arrows' season was the defeat of their neighboring rival, the Mansfield Tiger. It had been several years since the Arrows had ever beaten a rival. The first Arrow victory was Mansfield's home gymnasium, which was being changed to the new gym.

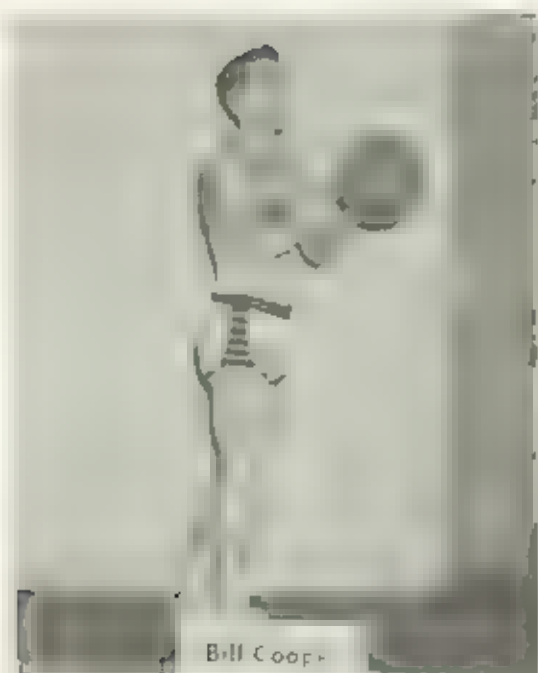

a larger building. The Tiger came back to beat Arrows in the Arrow's home gym to even the score at the end of the season.

In the regular season with 3 wins and 4 losses, the Arrows ended the Marion sectional championship by losing to the winner, Rocky. They did not wait for the final championship which they had been fighting to bring home to Cleveland. Two years the journey had been long at Marion.

The first game of the tournament was a hard-fought game. Cleveland's aggregation with the Arrow's first game. The Arrow met the Mansfield Tiger in the second game and proved they wanted to win by coming from behind to defeat the Tiger. This put the Arrow with the title with a smooth-running Bucyrus. Although not playing up to par, the Arrows were able to win the title. The Arrow's first game was the way for the Tiger to win.

The Arrows drew the Sandusky Blue Streak in their first game of the tournament, and went down to defeat by 50. Leading at halftime by three points, they came back to lose a 10-0 run. Sandusky's last game was a sharp shot at the end of the game. The Arrow's last game was a sharp shot at Sandusky's five and were never able to get back in the game and thus ended another season of the Arrows.

After returning after a break, Coach Plank started the team practicing. Back in another year was Jim Roseboro, Bob Messner, Stan Rader, Bill Cooper, Phil Fisher, Don Braden, Dan McBride, Dave Grinde, and Jim Campbell. By the time the Arrows met under with Madison rolled around, Plank had his starting combination pretty well set.

Bob Messner and Phil Fisher were the big guns in the twirling department. The two seniors were called on to make the pitching staff go better. It was given them to, John B. Far, and Max McKinley, regulars, and Dan McBride was used sparingly.

The Arrows were fortunate to have a strong bench this year. Whenever a replacement was needed, Plank could call upon any one of his substitutes and could be assured of a good performance from each.

Success, though, was the main reason for the Arrows' loss at the hands of Madison, 5 to 4. Limited practices caused the baseballers to be a little out of tune, thus giving the Rams four unearned runs. Better things were expected in the remaining games of the season.

The jayvee baseball team started their season with a brand new coach and many new candidates for their squad. Dick Wolfe took a new venture in the coaching field when he agreed to take over as Dart coach. This was Wolfe's first experience as a baseball coach and it may be added that he did a good job. Starting from scratch in both knowledge and personnel, his job was one that took many extra hours of his time and the time of the members of the Dart group.

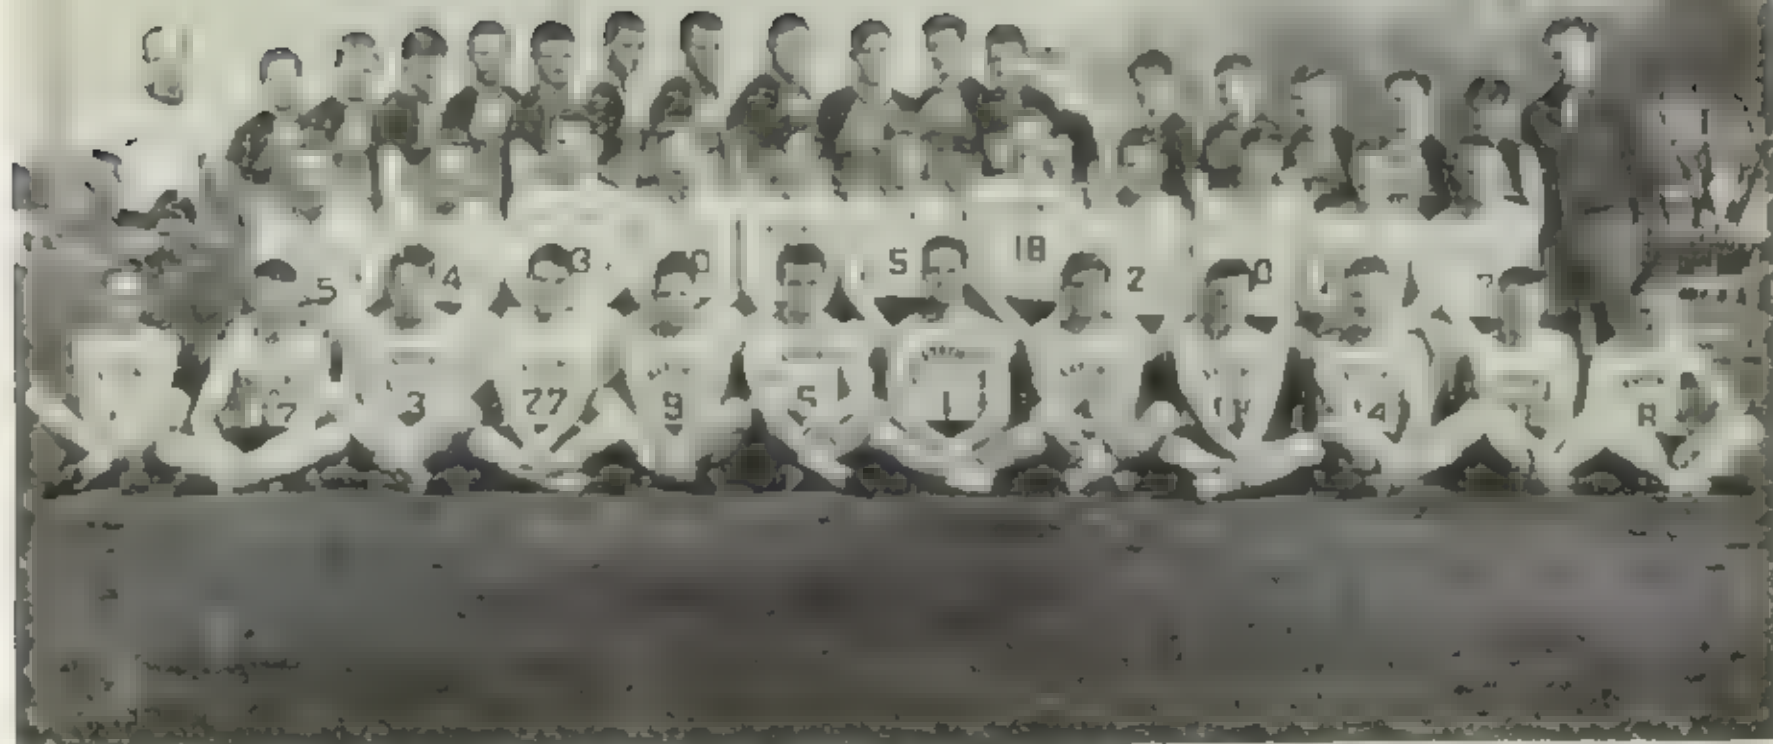

Teaching ninth and tenth grade boys the fundamentals of baseball was the main objective of Coach Wolfe. Most of the boys who try out for jayvee ball have not had many facts as to how this national pastime should be played. Between the time these boys are old enough to pick up any kind of ball and their age at the present time, they spend most of their time playing softball. In the Ashland recreational program during the summer, baseball has not been emphasized for several years, and thus the youngsters have not had the opportunity to play much baseball before they make a bid for a starting position on the Dart nine.

When weather conditions permitted the Darts to go outside, they took every advantage possible to get ready for the games that they had on their schedule. Early practices were held in the gym to get the boys' throwing arms in shape before they moved their talents to Myers Field. Getting a break in the weather, the Darts tried hard to be ready for their first game with Savannah.

Since Wolfe knew very little about the material with which he had to work, much experimenting was done before a definite line-up was announced. Every position on the team had at least two fellows trying to gain the starting nod. By the time this material was written no starting nine had been designated by the Darts' new mentor.

Beginning the 1953 track season with just eight lettermen, much skepticism was shown about the chances of having another fine thinclad squad. However, many good prospects were uncovered to help give the Arrows a real track team.

Captain Bill Springer, Gary Griner, Lee Mowry, Reed Stone, John Spreng, and Guv Farris were the returning mainstay winners of last year.

Springer was the mainstay in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, broad jump, and pole vault. He was expected to come through with his share of points in all four events. In the first meet of the year he cracked the school pole vault record held by Dick Tarr. He cleared the bar at 11 feet 6 inches. Lee Mowry and Gary Griner gave Springer plenty of competition in this event.

Larry Hamilton and Don Howey gave the Arrows points in the mile and half mile runs, whereas Larry Jones, G. Flora, and Reed Stone ranked among the best in the 440 run. Spreng, Stone, and Springer were enough to beat in the dashes.

Captain Bill Springer

Bob Murch, Roger Wissler, and Jack Ebert gave the mainstay in the shot put. Wissler and Murch threw the shot put and with the Siskel brothers, Springer, and Griner, Farris, and Conway, topped the team in the shot put. Ebert and Conway were the best in the long jump.

Dave Emery, Harold Farris, and G. Valentine were the best in the 100 yard dash. Farris and Howey were the best in the 220 yard dash.

The squad was deep in the 440 run. Jones, Farris, and Howey were the best in the 440 run. Jones, Farris, and Howey were the best in the 440 run.

On February 23 the Navy All-Star Team took over the boys' gym to beat the Army 34 to 14.

Coached by students from the college, the two teams trained for three weeks for the game. The two girls doing the coaching for the Navy were Pat G. Ham and Doris Woodworth, while Jeanette Whitmore and Carol Hudnut did the same for the Army.

Anne Taylor, sophomore member of the Navy, outscored all of her teammates by making eleven points to become high scorer. Jean Harpster was high point girl for her team by making six points.

Off as for the evening included Mr. Harriet Geisinger, girl physical education director of Ashland College, who was referee; Pat Wait, umpire; Mr. Thornhill, timekeeper; and Linda Horn and Janice Harpster, scorekeepers.

The Navy had two veterans of three years while the Army had one. For Army, Carolyn Cowan played as both a forward and a guard and for Navy, Carol Hartman played in the guard position and Ann Fendrick was forward. All of these girls were captain of their respective teams along with Shirley Hess, who was co-captain for the Army.

The managers, Barbara Sherck, Navy, and Corretta Stutler, Army, did their part for the teams by getting their numbers ready and taking care of their other responsibilities.

Each of the teams had its own cheerleader. Barbara Cothren, Peggy Humrich, and Joyce Leaman did the cheering for Army while Janice Fike, Margaret Kaser, and Nancy Kehl led cheers for Navy.

The Army cheerleaders wore dark brown and beige as their colors while the Navy was dressed in blue and white.

To conclude the year's activities, the two teams held a banquet at Smith's Supper Club. At this time, the girls were awarded their stars and basketballs.

Not to be forgotten are the Junior Army and Navy teams. The Junior Army showed up their senior big sisters by defeating the Junior Navy 20 to 19. These girls held a potluck supper to end the basketball season.

As Ashridge started at their first consecutive basketball game to the game last about four junior varsity cheerleaders. They four junior varsity cheerleaders were seen at every game of Ashridge at home or away leading Ashridge High School to cheer.

At the beginning the girls wore white turtle-necked sweaters with orange A's and black and orange pleated skirts.

At the beginning when the cheerleaders changed their uniforms to dark sweaters with the same black and orange A's and white long sleeved blouses. They traveled with the team to most of the out of town games including the tournament games, their being at Madison Square at Toledo.

This year the new name was given to the A. H. S. team. The name for Ashridge thought about a need for new and different cheer. To accomplish this the cheerleaders' adviser, held practices with them. During these evenings the girls originated several new cheer motions and words.

For the cheer of the J. V. teams, four junior varsity cheerleaders were chosen. These girls did a very good job and were given plenty of experience so that they will be able to take their place in the varsity rank.

VOLLEYBALL

Early in the fall many girls have been hurrying out to Brookside Park to play a very strenuous game of soccer. Although the girls wear shin guards, they still jokingly complain of bruised shins and ankles. Soccer was very ably managed by Olive Smith.

The second sport of the year is bowling. Although a large percentage of the balls rolled are gutter balls, the girls have a great deal of fun during the bowling season. This year Joyce Lutz, bowling manager, did a very capable job in averaging each girl's total number of points.

The volleyball season begins at approximately the same time as bowling. The Varsity team had a good record for they won three games and lost only one to an out of town team. Marianne Green did a very good job as volleyball manager.

The most popular sport of the year is basketball. Carolyn Cowan, the basketball manager, very capably handled the scheduling of the many practices and games.

The games played in recreational sports are table tennis, badminton, deck tennis and shuffleboard. Carol Hartman, this year's recreational sports manager, did her work with great competence.

The last sport of the year, softball, was managed by Jean Harpster.
